I was not trading today. We are celebrating "Onam" here in Kerala. This is only hindsight analysis. Missed a great trade today. Let it go. We are having a nice time with family and friends. All the trade opportunities gave good profit today. I will be posting the trades in hindsight for the next two days

Price extremes can be considered as DPs. For example the all time high is very relevant even if the retest happens after years. Likewise people do monitor the month and week extremes. I do not track Nifty spot

Sir,

Wish You Happy Belated Onam to you and your Family.

Your marekt's view is completely different and is very much practical.

You are simply Great.

Hi, what do these terms mean BOF/IRL etc. I am sorry I am not aware if this has been explained somewhere in that site.

Regards,
