This is an illustrative example of the concepts being discussed. Markings are just visualizations on historical data in hindsight analysis
 Very difficult to day trade today. After 12.30 it was too choppy and market took all the stops from day traders. Morning up move was difficult to capture and normally I would have waited for a second leg up. NS BRN did not support. I will try a TST on second test of BRN which stalled at NS BRN. Will end as a scratch. (Ignore the first arrow down. Forgot up arrow at BRN) A short at the range high would have yielded good profit but short below DO will end as a scratch. Difficult to capture up move. Short into the fluid also shaken out before reaching the target
