This is an illustrative example of the concepts being discussed. Markings are just visualizations on historical data in hindsight analysis
 Too much volatility and it is becoming difficult to manage the trades. Getting shaken out of good trades due to deep pull backs. Attempted three trades and could not capture the full potential even though trade direction was right. Attempt trades only at the structural edges
 Tomorrow I will not be trading and updating the blog. Here at Thrissur we are celebrating the most colorful temple festival of Kerala. Click here to watch a small video

Sir,

Today I could get 100+ points. I can't thank you and Mr. UR Dave enough for the constant guidance. Regardless of the result, I would like to know, whether they are legitimate trades.

My trade: <http://niftyforbread.blogspot.in/>

Thanks,

Nice trades. nothing wrong with the trades
 As far as possible trade in the direction of market bias and look for an early entry
 Ultimately trading is the ability to read the market action and the conviction to act without hesitation.
 Money management will take care of the rest
