This blog is for educational and general information purpose only. The information contained in the blog should not be construed as research report or financial advice.

I am not a research analyst registered under the SEBI (Research Analysts) regulation 2014 and not authorized to give any financial advice. Information contained in this blog should not be used, relied upon or treated as a substitute for specific or professional advice

Information on this site is general in nature only. The content is only general discussion on broad based index Nifty and technical analysis relating to the demand and supply factors.

I do not make any buy /sell/hold recommendation or give any price target. Charts published in this blog are only illustrative examples of the concepts discussed here and are simulations on historical data in hindsight analysis

These simulated results do not represent actual trading and these trades have not been executed in live market with real money. They are identified with the benefit of hindsight and no representation is being made that real trading using these concepts will or likely to achieve results as shown
