I did not trade today. In Kerala we were celebrating "Vishu" the New Year Day. In hindsight analysis there were two trades. First trade BOF of PDH was too fast and unexpected. Very difficult to catch this. Then a Barbed Wire around RN. I would have taken the Breakout and scratched later.

Hi ST,

Any reason for the big fluid on the 4th candle?

Regards

Suresh

Hallo,

Happy Vishnu.

Though it was very fast movement and as open and high was same- 6900- so the first candle was of nearly 80 to 100 pnts where signal generated as per this system, it was difficult to initiate trade there. But I managed because first candle was BOF of PDH...then there was break of PDC and BRN..I took 6800 pe @ 57 and within 15 minutes sold @ 88.

Followed system rule only without emotion.

This was one of the best trades I have taken and courageous too...

But more courage more reward...I got it.

This is just to share with you all, nothing any an extra element in it.
