04072013

Nifty opened within previous day range. First bar was a MC and it acted as the IR. Long on the BPB of PDH above the IR High. Second trade was a short below the range low as FTC. TP at LOD. Another long on the LOL BOF of LOD/BRN. Took profit at HOD.

Was it a fluid zone between 5815 and 5835?

If yes, then was there a way to identify it when the first move occurred?

Augu Bhai

You are right. It was a fluid.

Notice what happened in this area on 03072013. It was a gap. When I entered the first trade I was well aware of it and TP at the end of Fluid

The area acted as a Fluid during the next down move and the final up move

When entering a trade notice how price traveled through the area previously

Fantastic trade! I missed the 5835 short but got the BOF @ LOD and it flew like mad through the Fluid!

Thanks, ST!

Good.

Trading is a skill just like swimming and driving. Once you learn it you will never forget it.

But you need to focus on the reality and practice a method with an "Enduring Edge" deliberately.

Yes. We do miss a lot of good trades

Many times forget to notice some crucial clues.

Anyway. Improving slowly and steadily.
