Lucky that I did not trade today. I would have lost money except the first one. Nifty was in a broad channel till 01.30. In live market it is almost impossible to identify it. I am really scared of Channels and Barbed Wires.

Do you mean a long above the first candle ?
I always trade away from a DP. First candle did not touch a DP. It was hanging in between PDC and PDL
Further there was no space for that trade. PDC was too close. It reversed exactly there

I was a bit adventurous today and shorted the 4th candle knowing well that PDL was close by. But took a shot. Grrrr....
