The best thing that could have ever happened to me... is this blog..

Though I don't trade exactly as you do, but the concepts that I have learned here is just too good.

Hi ST,

I would agree with TradeIntheZone, the best thing that has happened to me in trading is this blog. I am trading purely DP method, I make many mistakes but I am also learning every day from you. I try to use all your concepts.

Sir,
Admire your patience in answering all queries.
Also, thanks for sharing your years of hard work with us, expecting nothing in return.

Thanks,

ST,
Your blog has been very helpful in my development as a trader. It has simplified trading by reducing a whole lot of variables/parameters.
Thanks,

Sir,

Learning still goes on. Here thanks to yourself, we can know our mistakes on the same day. Hopeful that, anyone willing to stay put, so long as it takes to grasp this concept will definitely start earning after the learning curve is completed.

As you mention frequently, this method is full of subjectivities and hence the traders need to develop the necessary discretion, which can not happen over night or weeks. That is quite understandable, because any successful strategy must be flexible enough to cope up with the ever changing Market.

The other so called mechanical strategies for day trading, (which can be learnt in no time), I had tried were utter failures. That makes me comprehend the fact that it is not that easy to develop a strategy which will take care of all the twists and turns of intra day moves. Hence it is only natural that any proven strategy for intra day trading can be mastered only after spending the time and energy, needed.

Thanks for sharing with us the fruits of years of hard work. Now we have yourself and a few other seniors to guide us. Still I found the going tough. Could not imagine how much you would have endured, when you developed this wonderful concept.

Once again thanking you,

S.Karthikeyan

Hi ST,

Quantum Physics says that 'whatever the observer expects to see, he sees'.

NiftyNirvana is what I was looking for. Simple, crisp and No-Nonsense daytrader paradise.

Thank you for all the efforts and time which you are putting for guiding us all. Hats off to your patience for answering and explaining the most basic fundamental with charts and redrawn charts. How much I wish that you teach DP trading in schools and colleges as a part of curriculum.

I had a thought in my mind: Even though you trade only Nifty, the concepts can be applied to any liquid instrument, so how about targeting other market traders... It could be a S&P e-mini trader or a Japanese trader. What special efforts can be devised and how could the regular readers of this blog help.

A big Thank You!!

TBP

ST Sir,

Your method and blog has given me the confidence that I can trade to live and still survive. I came across your DP system at the right time when going through a mid-life career crisis with a big question mark hovering over my head.

Thanks and Regards,
KSG

ST sir

It is very helpful and my trading is better now i think for day trading or any trading other knowledge of charts is also necessary then it becomes easier to understand why to avoid some trades sometimes

But i want to know if we can filter the 3min chart in 1 min chart just before entry will it be useful or not

please do answer me

Thanks for your guidance ,mentoring and continuous effort for improving our trading .Most important aspect of your guidance is that you always encourage to "Stand Up For Yourself" and not to depend on others.

Hats off to you ST Sir.

ST sir,

"Give a man a fish and you feed him for a day. Teach a man to fish and you feed him for a lifetime." Nifty Nirvana has made this proverb correct in a real sense.

I thank you for teaching me the real day trading. You made this very difficult part of trading to very easy by your DPs.

I believe the day is not too far when millions of traders would trade with the DPs successfully. DP trading will become more popular than the methods like Elliott waves, Gann, Fibonacci, etc. I am sure it will one day.

Thank you a lot.

URD

Dear ST,

Many thanks for your blog. I stumbled across your blog sometime in the end of last year and since then have been a regular follower. I had tried multiple trading strategies before that, but since January I have stuck to DP trading. I am a slow learner, am still making losses, but I have a strong feeling that it is only time before I turn profitable. I have even started my own blog (although it has been some time since I last updated it). I hope you will continue to guide in the future also. All the best !!

Dear Niftynirvana,

Greetings for your great success so far. Well sir currently I am working on a project for simplifying Trading. I am analyzing the Phenomenon of successful traders who are very generous to share their wisdom with others to help majority of people which are in real need.

So, This is an appeal to you for the contribution of your valuable information:-

Q.1. What charting software do you use for the real time trade. Whether its a broker provided platform or any other. If other then why you do not use broker provided?

Q.2. Which data feed do you use for charting software. Whether Its free or Paid. If free how you set up that ?

Well the motive behind these question is that I am aware with your trading Method but I don't know about the tools, application, software etc you prefer. These information can help me a lot for judging the current scenario of a successful trader's mind.

I hope I make myself clear that what I am looking for. As I already told you about my weak English in one of the comment on your blog.

So, please acknowledge as soon as possible with your kind support, guidance and help.

Thanks for the visit and comment

1.I am using web based charts from lcharts.in. Trading platform i use are not very good at charting

2.I don't want to set up and maintain these things. So opted for web charts which is enough for my kind of trading
