Market was choppy with too many levels in between. Attempted a long on BOF of PDH/PDC. Stopped out below the entry bar. Did not attempt any other trade.

You have traded well

I never thought your second one reverse so fast It was showing very good momentum.

thanks ST.

yes .. I expected the second one to reach my PDH

Hi ST,

I didn't take any trades today. Thought of going long above 11:45 but thought better not to go over one bar pullback because the 11:42 bar closed too close to the PDC, Also wanted to go long above 2:15 after the pullback. please correct my thinking in both cases Also, is it possible for you to also post the orders that did not trigger? Thanks for your help.

Hi ST

Where would have been the entry for LOL BOF PDH/PDC?? Below 8020 or PDL??

Thanks TBP

First trade nothing can be done

Second one always wait for the market to make a formation like a swing point and enter on break of it Price may channel after a spike.. May not reverse

Avoid BO type entries unless critical mass is not getting trapped

Should we have to take the PDL, PDH in case of lessor hours of trading in the previous day as per the previous day only (or) the lowest and highest of the previous two days? (For future application) Regards, Veer

To-day it may be a range bound day. Thanks to the information given by YTC as referred to by URDave $\frac{1}{2}$ http://www.charttechnicals.blogspot.in/2014/10/when-to-expect-rangebound-movement.html

Regards,

Veer
